We were so busy having fun on the first day of summer that we didn't take many photos, but the ones that we took, we gave to Animoto to set them to music and give them some style.